Nomination Form:

What is WBL?

To learn more about the Women Business Leaders of the U.S. Health Care Industry Foundation, please review our WBL Fact Sheet. This can be found at our website, www.womenleadinghealthcare.org. In addition, you can find other materials at our website, including the WBL Calendar of Events and information the next WBL Summit.

Who is eligible to be a WBL Foundation Associate?

WBL's Foundation Associates are women who should possess a title of Senior Vice President level or higher, preferably have direct profit and loss responsibility, and work in or with the health care industry. The size of the company is considered if the woman's title is Vice President or lower, i.e. the larger the company, the greater the likelihood that other titles may be acceptable. Participation in WBL is by invitation only.

What are the dues to be in WBL?

There are no dues.

How does the WBL nomination process work?

Anyone may nominate an eligible woman to WBL. To nominate a woman to become a WBL Foundation Associate, simply complete the form on the opposite side of this page for each woman would like to nominate. If possible, please send us the resume of the potential Foundation Associate. There is no limit to the number of women you may nominate to WBL. You also may nominate women to WBL by e-mailing their contact information to Eleanor Whitley at ewhitley@ebglaw.com, or by calling WBL at (202) 955-7181. We welcome self-nominations. Should a third party nominate a woman, we let that woman know who nominated her so that she may thank that person for doing so.

If you have any questions regarding the nomination process, please call the WBL Foundation.
