

Eleanor R. Whitley

Eleanor R. Whitley is a Research and Executive Assistant for the Women Business Leaders of the U.S. Health Care Industry Foundation (see www.womenleadinghealthcare.org).

In this role, she is responsible for assisting the Founder and the CEO with the wide variety of Foundation activities. The mission of the Foundation is to help senior executive women in the health care industry improve their businesses and continue to grow professionally.

She works with the Foundation and its Advisory Board members on a daily basis and is responsible for outreach to potential new Foundation Associates. She creates the design, content, and management of the organization's website, maintains the Foundation's contact database, as well as addresses the Foundation's accounting needs that do not require external review, including reviewing and preparing the Foundation's financial reconciliations, statements, and budgets.

In addition, Ms. Whitley does the planning and preparations for the Foundation's receptions and BYOCC events, works with the CEO in recruiting Summit corporate sponsors, and works with the hotels and speakers in planning the Foundation's annual Summits. She also works directly with outside vendors to create WBL's brochures and associated print materials. Ms. Whitley also assists the Founder and the CEO with creating WBL's board search assistance materials for numerous search firms and affiliated companies in WBL's efforts to foster "horizontal advancement."TM

Immediately prior to graduating from the University of Virginia, she worked as an intern for Epstein Becker & Green, P.C., WBL's Founding Sponsor. There, she worked as an intern assisting the firm with various research and marketing projects. This also included working with the WBL Foundation in an intern capacity.

Prior to her work at Epstein Becker & Green, P.C., Ms. Whitley was Head Lifeguard and Aquatic Summer Programs Coordinator for Randolph-Macon Woman's College for two years. In this role she was responsible for hiring and training a staff of 15 lifeguards to work with numerous community groups and private camps. She implemented a system for assessing swimmer safety to meet the growing needs of the facility and its programs and assisted with special events. In addition, she redesigned the college's web site to help market the school's summer programs to a national audience.

Ms. Whitley began her career working with the health care industry as a Head Lifeguard and Activities Manager for a children's summer camp affiliated with Centra Health in Lynchburg, Virginia. Prior to her time at the University of Virginia, she won a statewide research paper competition and published a paper in the Virginia Junior Academy of Science's 2001 journal. In addition, she was an AP Scholar with Distinction.

On a personal note, Ms. Whitley was a competitive swimmer for 14 years, advancing to Senior Nationals (Olympic trials) in four events, both individual and team.
